March 5 2012

My first goal was pass computer application class this year. I haven't checked my grade but I think I am passing with a D or better. I obtained this goal because I did the assignments that I did know how to do. I maybe didn't go them all but I didn't give up. My next goal for this class is getting a higher grade. I feel like I need to set this goal because I feel like I can do better.

My second goal was to not be late for 2nd period. After I made this goal I had less tardies. But I still need to improve in that. My goal was have no tardies and I did. What I need to to improve in this goal is to wake more early. And I'm not going to make a new goal because I still have to improve.

My third goal was to stay out of trouble. I obtained this goal by not hanging with the wrong people. I don't think their nothing I could change I don't think I did anything wrong once it came to this. I think I do need to set a new goal because staying out of trouble is not a problem for me
